

NBA Accreditation Orientation Illuminates Faculty: Mahavir Education Society's Institutions Engage in Instructive Session on the Accreditation Process

On August 20th, a significant NBA (National Board of Accreditation) one-day orientation program was organized by Shree Mahavir Education Society, the program enlightens the faculty of Sanghavi College of Engineering, Mahavir Polytechnic, and Mahavir Institute of Pharmacy. The event aimed to shed light on the vital accreditation process, emphasizing its significance in the realm of education.

Mr. Harish Sanghavi, Chairman of Mahavir Education Society, Mr. Rahul Sanghavi, Managing Trustee, and Dr. Priyanka Zawar, Trust Coordinator, graced the occasion on the Dias.

The program featured Dr. Bharatkumar B. Ahuja, Vice Chancellor of JSPM University of Pune, and Dr. Arati Mule, Associate Professor in the Department of Production Engineering at the College of Engineering, Pune (COEP), as resource persons. They engaged in an interactive discussion, providing valuable insights and guidance on each accreditation criterion, enriching the faculty's understanding of the assessment and evaluation process.

Following the informative PowerPoint presentation, a lively question and answer session provided faculty members with the opportunity to seek clarification on accreditation criteria. The engagement and participation of the entire staff further enhanced the success of this enlightening orientation program.

Mahavir Student Parth Bhandari Honored by NASA: For Website Bug Discoveries

In a remarkable feat of cybersecurity prowess, Parth Bhandari, a third-year Diploma IT student at Mahavir Polytechnic, has earned the prestigious "Hall of Fame" distinction from NASA. Parth's extraordinary dedication and skills have led him to uncover critical vulnerabilities in NASA's official website, ensuring the security of sensitive data and preserving the integrity of their online presence.

Parth embarked on this journey by independently auditing NASA's website, seeking out and reporting potential weaknesses. After extensive analysis and rigorous testing, he successfully identified several vulnerabilities with the potential for significant security risks. These discoveries swiftly garnered the attention of NASA's cybersecurity team, who promptly addressed and resolved the issues.

As a token of their deep appreciation, NASA has recognized Parth Bhandari's invaluable contributions with this esteemed induction into their Hall of Fame. This recognition serves as a testament to Parth's remarkable talent and underscores the vital role of cybersecurity in our digitally interconnected world.

Parth's achievement stands as an inspiration to cybersecurity enthusiasts worldwide, demonstrating the transformative impact of dedication and technical expertise in safeguarding online platforms. The entire Mahavir Polytechnic community takes immense pride in Parth's accomplishments, with high hopes for his continued success as a budding cybersecurity expert.

Parth Bhandari's cybersecurity journey also includes the discovery of bugs within Monash University's websites in Australia, as well as multinational corporations Boat, Lifestyle, and Coca-Cola. His diligent bug reporting and investigations have earned him commendations and 'Hall of Fame' recognition for his contributions to these companies' data security. This exceptional recognition from NASA reinforces the crucial role that individuals like Parth Bhandari play in ensuring digital safety. His relentless dedication and expertise leave an indelible mark on the field of cybersecurity, inspiring progress and advancement in online security practices.

Congratulations to Parth Bhandari, his mentor Prof. Anup Sonawane, and the entire Comp/IT Department for these exceptional achievements. We eagerly anticipate Parth's continued journey and the positive impact he will undoubtedly make in the realm of cybersecurity.

Vibrant Induction Program for the freshers!

Mahavir Polytechnic recently organized an engaging induction program to welcome our new first-year students. This program aimed to familiarize them with college life, create bonds with peers, and ensure a smooth transition into their academic journey.

Day 1: The program commenced with the auspicious Saraswati Poojan and the lighting of the lamp by our esteemed Trust Coordinator and Dean, Dr. Priyanka Zawar. Following this, students embarked on a department visit, where they explored the various labs and facilities that the college has to offer.

Day 2: A lively dance workshop was organized, led by our accomplished alumnus, Mr. Swapnil Rokde. Mr. Rokde, an international choreographer and the owner of a renowned dance and event academy, shared his expertise with the students. Additionally, alumni who have achieved remarkable success as entrepreneurs inspired our students. Mr. Ghanshyam Tuppad, batch of 1999 and 2002, now the owner of Atharwa Enterprises, MIDC, Ambad; Mr. Ashish Jaykar, batch of 1999, owner of Jaikar Industries, MIDC, Ambad; Mr. Deepak Adhav, owner of Riaan Construction, Adhav Petrol Pump, and Chandrabhaga Petrol Pump; and Mr. Nilesh Patil, batch of 2012, CEO of NPIT Solutions, Nashik, delivered motivating speeches to encourage our students to excel academically and aspire to be future entrepreneurs and engineers.

Day 3: A seminar on personality development was conducted, guided by our illustrious alumna, Miss Ahire. This seminar aimed to help students enhance their personal growth and development.

Last Day: To wrap up this memorable program, a visit to Ramshej Fort was organized. Students had a fantastic time bonding with their new friends, making memories that will last a lifetime. The induction program at Mahavir Polytechnic has not only welcomed our freshers but has also set the tone for their exciting journey ahead. We look forward to witnessing their growth and success during their time with us.

Empowering Future Leaders: Mahavir Polytechnic's 5-Day Training Program with Barclays

Mahavir Polytechnic partners with Barclays for a transformative 5-day training program. With the support of Barclays and Innovation Comes Jointly (ICJ), this initiative aims to enhance students' employability skills. The program focuses on fostering innovation and skill development among unemployed youth to match industry requirements.

Prof. Anup Sonawane led the program, focusing on essential career growth aspects over five days. From building a professional impression to embracing corporate values, effective communication, and sharpening analytical skills, this program prepares students for success in both on-campus and off-campus placements. It's a collaborative effort nurturing future leaders. The initiative's comprehensive curriculum has equipped students with the skills, confidence, and opportunities they need to shine in their careers, aligning perfectly with the institution's commitment to nurturing future leaders.

Students Explore the World of Motors on Educational Visit SCOE's Electrical Engineering Students Learn at Indian Railway's Traction Motor Workshop.

Sanghavi College of Engineering's Third year Electrical Engineering students embarked on an educational journey on August 18th. They visited the Traction Motor workshop at Nashik Road, It is a Indian Railway manufacturing unit. The purpose of this visit was to gain insights into the intricate process of motor production and repairing.

At the workshop, students had the unique opportunity to witness the art of creating motors up close. They delved into the inner workings of these machines, paying particular attention to the winding process, which is essential for a motor's operation. SCOE's Electrical Engineering Students Learn at Indian Railway's Traction Motor Workshop This educational experience shed light on the world of railway electric traction, encompassing various locomotives and multiple units used in electrification systems worldwide.

The students left with a deeper understanding of the technology that powers the railways, a vital part of our nation's infrastructure. Visits like these not only broaden students' horizons but also inspire their pursuit of knowledge and innovation in the field of electrical engineering.

SCOE Hosts Exciting Induction Program for Freshers: Welcoming New Students with Fun, Inspiration with Fresher's Party

Sanghavi College of Engineering recently rolled out the red carpet for its new first-year students with an engaging induction program that left a lasting impression. The program's goal was simple: introduce these fresh faces to college life, foster bonds among peers, and ensure a smooth transition into their academic journey.

Day 1: Fun and Interaction

The first day kicked off with an enthusiastic introduction session, setting a welcoming tone for the newcomers. Next up, it was all about fun and games, where students could let loose and get to know one another. The day also featured a lively dance workshop where students got to explore the vibrant world of Garba Nrutya.

Day 2: Alumni Wisdom and Exploration

Day two brought inspiration from an unexpected source – alumni. Mr. Nilesh Patil, CEO of NPIT Solutions, took center stage to share his journey from college to the helm of his own company. His motivating words encouraged students to work hard, chase their dreams, and achieve their goals. Following this inspirational talk, students embarked on an exciting departmental tour, exploring the college's labs and facilities.

Day 3: The Entrepreneur's Perspective

The third day was all about entrepreneurial spirit. Mr. Swapnil Lande, CEO of Graduate Chaha and a successful entrepreneur, imparted valuable advice to the freshers. He emphasized the importance of using their engineering knowledge to become entrepreneurs and employers rather than employees.

The Fresher's Party

The highlight of the induction program was undoubtedly the Fresher's Party. The atmosphere buzzed with energy as students introduced themselves, participated in various games, and interacted with the college staff. The festivities began with the auspicious Saraswati Poojan and the lighting of the lamp, graced by our esteemed Trust Coordinator and Dean, Dr. Priyanka Zawar. This induction program successfully paved the way for these freshers, offering not just knowledge but memories, inspiration, and connections that will last a lifetime.

Words of Wisdom

"However difficult life may seem, there is always something you can do and succeed at"

World Pharmacist Day witnessed vibrant celebrations at Mahavir Institute of Pharmacy, marked by engaging activities that highlighted the essential role of pharmacists in healthcare. The institute's students orchestrated a compelling Group Drama performance centered on critical subjects such as 'Organ Donation', 'Andhshraddha Nirmulan' (Superstition Eradication), and 'the Impact of Social Media'. These thought-provoking dramas were presented at D. P. College and Sangam College in Pimpalgaon Baswant.

In line with the spirit of the day, Mahavir Institute of Pharmacy also organized vital health checkup camps. A Health Checkup Camp, held at D. P. College, provided local residents and students with essential services such as Eye Checkups, BP Checkups, and BMI assessments. The event was further enriched by a Blood Donation Camp, where students generously contributed to this noble cause.

In addition to these activities, students and staff visited the vibrant Green Gym at Pimpalgaon, symbolizing the importance of physical well-being. The celebration of World Pharmacist Day brought together the entire Mahavir Institute of Pharmacy community, including dedicated staff members and enthusiastic students, in a collective effort to honor and acknowledge the invaluable contributions of pharmacists to society.

This celebration not only showcased the commitment of future pharmacists but also emphasized the critical role pharmacists play in healthcare, promoting wellness and ensuring access to essential healthcare services.

Students Celebrates 'Teachers Day' with Joyful Program

Students at Mahavir Institute of Pharmacy came together to celebrate Teachers' Day with great enthusiasm. The program, organized by the students themselves, took place in the seminar hall and was filled with heartfelt gestures.

The students started the event by welcoming their beloved teachers with roses, a symbol of their appreciation and respect. During the event, students Kaveri Avhad, Prajakta Deshmukh, and Neha Joshi delivered touching speeches that highlighted the invaluable role teachers play in their lives.

Sanket Kedare and Anushka Kulkarni took on the roles of anchors, guiding the program smoothly. To add a creative touch, some students presented poems dedicated to their teachers, while others showcased heartwarming videos that showcased the strong bonds between students and educators. The event also featured the presentation of the "Best Student Teacher Award," a momentous occasion that recognized the outstanding contributions of teachers to the students' academic journey. Overall, it was a day filled with gratitude, warmth, and appreciation, as Mahavir Institute of Pharmacy students celebrated their teachers' dedication and commitment to shaping their futures.
